I just tell you, Editor, things are booming in Morgan county. Did you know that Morgan county. Did you know that Morgan county is going to have a railroad from Caney Coal Fields to Morehead? And its mighty windy about now. But before the railroad comes Morgan county must vote $25,000 railroad tax to help the railroad company build bridges across the streams of water on their route. Some in favor of the tax while a majority is against it, and the thing is beginning to blubber like it was getting very hot. We want a railroad, but if Morgan county helps to build it, she should be one of the stockholders. I think this is fair.

A Lexington dispatch says: "The heirs of the late Rev. George Stanberry, a wealthy Episcopalian minister of this city, have discovered that before his death the reverend gentleman was fleezed out of $80,000, and in their investigations discovered that thirty other ministers had suffered to the tune of nearly $500,000. Just prior to his death Rev. Stanberry went to New York and there met Algernon H. Wilcox, whose headquarters were in Philadelphia. The shrewd swindler represented that he had options on valuable land in Minnesots, and organized a company with a capital of $1,000,000, among the stockholders being thirty clergymen he roped into the game. Building and loan associations, banks and other enterprises entered into Wilcox's schemes, and investigation just instituted by the Lexington heirs of Stanberry proves that Wilcox defrauded him of $80,000. Wilcox fied from New York and went to Chicago. "He was located there by the agent of Free wool will make cheaper clothes, benefiting all the people, and will increase the price of domestic wool, benefiting the farmer. Foreign wools are needed for admixture with cur own wools in this country, and when their importation is dismished by a tariff duty the demand for American wools moves flocks of sheep have gone down. Already the price of domestic wool has increased in this country since the passage of the Senate bill. A month ago American wools sold in New York and Boston for from 19 to 34 cents a pound, according to quality. Since then the demand has increased, and the prices now range from 22 to 37 cents. Under the McKinley law the rate of duty on cheap woolen cloth was from 150 to 163 per cent, and on dearer cloth from 80 to 99 per cent. Under the new bill it will be from 30 to 50 per cent. The tax on blankets was from 50 to 104 per cent. All these will pay 50 per cent. All these will pay 50 per cent. They will pay from 30 to 42½. The same is true of other necessities, so it will be seen that the farmer gains both ways. The price of his product is increased and his wants are supplied with less money. The new tariff bill is not as good as it might be, but it will save the people millions of dollars and be the stepping store to other and greater reductions of taxing the content of the first three to the first three th
